

Lecturer / Senior Lecturer:

Financial Accounting, Management Accounting or Auditing

School of Business

Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand
Permanent tenure (1.0 FTE)

The Business School at AUT's City Campus has a reputation as a leading provider of innovative postgraduate and undergraduate business education. The Faculty has over 6000 students and 160 academic staff. Our programmes include a very successful Bachelor of Business, Masters' degrees (research and course-work), MBA, and a growing PhD programme.

We are currently looking to appoint new academic staff to join our team of accountants. You will be an active researcher and enthusiastic teacher, with the ability to contribute to innovative degree programmes at undergraduate and postgraduate level while researching within the area of financial accounting, management accounting and/or auditing.

You have either completed, or are near to completing, your doctorate in the areas of (or allied to) financial accounting, management accounting or auditing. In addition to your specialist research focus in one of these areas, which should enable you to contribute towards Masters' programmes and the supervision of research students, you must be able to contribute to the teaching of our core undergraduate papers.

You will have excellent communication skills and a passion for research informed teaching. You should have experience in teaching on undergraduate and/or postgraduate degree programmes. Your experience of supervising postgraduate students will be an advantage, as will be your publication track record.

For more detailed information on the Faculty, please see: www.aut.ac.nz/faculties/business/

We are also interested in hearing from you if you are planning a sabbatical period and are looking for a great place to base yourself where you can also supplement your funding.

As well as the above tenured positions, we are currently seeking experienced accounting academics (at any level) to visit our School in 2009. We will provide the usual academic facilities and a conducive environment for your research. In addition, we can offer you up to 6 hours of teaching per week (for 12 weeks) for which you will receive an agreed payment and/or reimbursement of expenses. If this interests you please contact us before the end of September.

Enquiries regarding any of the above may be made by contacting Professor Deryl Northcott on email: deryl.northcott@aut.ac.nz.

To apply for this position you must complete an AUT Application for Employment form and forward it with your CV to hr.enquiries@aut.ac.nz or by post to Human Resources, Private Bag 92006, Auckland 1142, NZ.
